Judge Biography - Jim Hughes

Jacksonville native Jim Hughes has had a love of photography since high school. Due to the constraints of a “real job”, his photography was relegated to a “hobby” until his “early” retirement in 1998 and subsequent formal training at the Rocky Mountain School of Photography in Missoula, MT. While his primary focus is on the beauty of Nature, he also enjoys capturing images of the local scenery during his travels to Europe, the Northwest, the Southwest, and throughout Florida.

Jim has been shooting with Nikon cameras since the mid-70’s. Now, working exclusively in digital, he has complete control over the creative process from image capture to final print.

In addition to numerous awards, over 300 of his images have sold in one form or another, primarily in juried Art Shows throughout Florida.

Jim shares his love of and enthusiasm for photography by teaching classes as well as speaking at Photography Clubs.

Jim readily admits that, since becoming actively involved in photography, he "see s" things he never saw before ... and sees everything differently.

A detailed illustration of a lush forest scene. The scene is framed by a decorative border. In the foreground, there are two prominent trees with thick, textured trunks and dense foliage. The leaves are rendered in various shades of green, with some showing detailed vein patterns. The ground is covered with various plants, including what appears to be a large, light-colored flower or plant on the left. A stream flows through the center of the scene, reflecting the surrounding greenery. In the background, more trees and foliage are visible, creating a sense of depth. The overall style is reminiscent of early 20th-century decorative arts or book illustrations.

A photograph of a swampy landscape. In the foreground, a large, gnarled tree trunk lies horizontally across the frame, its reflection clearly visible in the dark water below. The background is filled with dense, tangled vegetation, including many thin, bare branches and some green foliage. The overall scene is a natural, somewhat desolate swamp environment.

A black and white photograph of a mountain landscape. In the foreground, there is a dense forest of evergreen trees. In the middle ground, a waterfall cascades down a rocky cliff face. The background features several large, rugged mountain peaks, some of which are partially obscured by mist or low-hanging clouds. The overall scene is dramatic and scenic.

A detailed illustration of a classic movie theater. The scene is viewed from the audience's perspective, looking towards the stage. The stage features a large white screen with the words "The End" in a bold, black, sans-serif font. The screen is framed by heavy red curtains. The theater's interior is characterized by dark wood paneling on the walls and ceiling. Several rows of red upholstered seats are visible, with a diverse group of people sitting in them. The lighting is warm and focused on the stage, with wall sconces providing ambient light. The overall atmosphere is that of a quiet, final cinematic experience.
