Biography – Patrick Grady

Patrick Grady's lifelong fascination with photography began in 1981 when he bought his first camera, a used Nikon EM. A year later, he won his first photography contest—sponsored by Fashion Square Mall in Orlando—and has been happily chasing light, stories, and the occasional sometimes-necessary piece of gear ever since. Through film, darkrooms, digital, mirrorless, and enough memory cards to pave a driveway, photography has remained a constant source of joy, creativity, and connection.

Patrick is a working event and portrait photographer and owner of Fantastic Photographs, LLC. He's a longtime member of the Professional Photographers of America (PPA), a Certified Professional Photographer (CPP), and serves on the Board of Directors as President-Elect of the Beaches Photography Club. He enjoys encouraging photographers at every stage of their journey and has discovered that teaching is a wonderfully selfish endeavor—he almost always learns something in return. He believes great images come from equal parts vision, curiosity, persistence, and being in the right place when the light finally cooperates. He is delighted to serve as a judge, looks forward to celebrating the creativity and talent represented in this competition, and secretly hopes to end up with a few new ideas of his own.

An illustration of a movie theater interior. The large screen at the front displays the words "The End" in a bold, black, sans-serif font. The screen is flanked by heavy red curtains. The theater has wooden walls and floors. Rows of red seats are filled with an audience of people seen from behind. Two people are seated in the front row on the right side. The scene is lit with warm, golden light, suggesting the end of a film.
